THE TOWN'S PEOPLE

JAMES O. HOLT

He Grew Up with the Town

Coming to Arlington as a boy and working for George L. Peirce and Frank Winn in the Pleasant Street Market, James O. Holt has grown up with the town. In those days the population of Arlington was 5,000 and there was but one store in Arlington Heights.

There have been changes for Mr. Holt as well as for the town. In 1894 he bought out Cassus Hall, for whom he had worked for a time in the meat market next door to the Pleasant Street Market, and later bought out Mr. Winn.

In the spring of 1935, he sold the market site to the Five

News Briefs

News dispatches from Europe tell of the re-establishment of the Comintern, as Moscow seems to abandon all pretense of co-operation with the West. The Herald editor calls it "phony". Recall the "phony war"? It wasn't!

Dagens Nyheter, Sweden's biggest newspaper, declares that the setting up of the nine-nation international Communist organization in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, "disqualifies" Communists from holding positions in the Swedish, Norwegian, and Danish Governments. "They should be excluded from all confidential committees where important national problems are discussed—for example, from the Defense Committee," the paper declared.

The Government of India declares a national holiday to mark Mohandas K. Gandhi's 78th birthday, who on that day rises at 3:30 a. m. and celebrates the occasion by fasting, meditating and spinning, as "peace processions" pass through the streets.

Melrose Spa Owner Identifies Hold-Up Men

Taken to Cambridge court by Arlington police inspectors, Nicholas Dinecco, proprietor of the Melrose Spa, 152 Massachusetts avenue, identified two young men, aged 18 and 22, as the men who held him up last Friday night and stole a sum of money from his store. The two were members of a gang of which some were juveniles. All had been involved in crimes in Cambridge. They were held for the Grand Jury.

500 MEMBERS OF ST. AGNES HOLY NAME IN PARADE

Led by Rev. William J. Linehan, five hundred members of St. Agnes' Holy Name Society marched in the parade in Boston on Sunday. Following Father Linehan was Patrick Coleman, president of the society.

Particularly beautiful was the float, which was in charge of Vice-President William Toomey. This depicted the commission of Christ to the Apostles. On its side was the quotation, "Go ye, therefore, to teach all nations." William O'Connor was the Christus and the eleven Apostles (Judith was not present on the occasion depicted) were Patrick Mullen, Matthew Hught, Philip O'Neill, William Sullivan, Warren Ryan, Jr., Robert Germaine, Henry Leahy, Arthur Foster, Jr., Paul Asselin, James Hetherman, and David Buckley.

Music was furnished by the American Legion Band, led by Patrick Pallante. The marchers were under the direction of Joseph Lavery.

Rev. Nathan W. Wood on N. Y. Speaking Tour

Rev. Nathan W. Wood of the First Baptist Church returned last Friday night from a series of Area Conferences which are leading up to a two-year campaign of evangelism being promoted by the Northern Baptist Convention. The system is to send men to states other than their own—in November a team will visit Massachusetts.

In eastern New York, which his team covered, Mr. Wood spoke to groups averaging 250, in Utica, Schenectady, Watertown, Pottsdam, Oneonta, Newburgh and Pawling (Dewey's home town). At the close of his talk the other members of the team—Rev. Arlin Heydon of Kansas, Rev. O. H. Williams of Michigan, and Rev. William Keucher of Philadelphia—conducted classes in different phases of evangelism.

On petition of two hundred registered voters, so certified by the Board of Registrars, the Selectmen have called a special Town Meeting for November 17th and will include in the warrant an article providing for the payment of extra special compensation for 1947 for elected and appointed officers and employees of the town, exclusive of school teachers, to meet the present abnormal increase in the cost of living.

A second article which has been filed, signed by one hundred registered voters, provides for special compensation for the same group for January, February and March, 1948.

The warrant, now open, will be closed at 8:00 p. m., Tuesday, October 14. At that time the Selectmen will draw up the warrant. A copy will be sent to the Finance Committee for their recommendations on the various articles.

At hearings of the Finance Committee, the petitioners will present the requests for compensation, naming the sums desired. Late in the spring the town employees were granted special compensation of $208 for the year or four dollars a week. That special compensation, Warren O'Leary, president of the Town Employees' Association, points out, ceases to be effective on the last day of this year. The article, calling for special compensation the first three months of 1948 is designed to bridge the gap between that date and the annual Town Meeting.

Awarded Scholarship At Simmons College

Miss Jane Gates Washburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Washburn, Jr., of 24 Coolidge road, has been awarded the Mrs. Winthrop Sargent Scholarship for the current year at Simmons College, according to the announcement of Dean Jane Louise Mesick recently.

Miss Washburn has been active in Student Government at Simmons, serving on the Council for two years. She was a junior representative to Honor Board, and a member of the Junior Welcome to the Anne Strong Club, the Home Economics Club, and the Glee Club. During her sophomore year she was chairman of the Red Cross drive.

To Make Plans for 25th Anniversary Season at Friends of Drama Meeting

Marking the opening of their twenty-fifth anniversary season, the Arlington Friends of the Drama, Inc., will gather for their first business meeting on the evening of Thursday, October 16, at their Academy Street Clubhouse. President W. Parker Wood will preside.

Plans for the Silver Anniversary season will be discussed, and an entertainment program headed by the Russell Curry Dancers will highlight the evening. The appearance of Mr. Curry and his faculty dancers is particularly appropriate because the Curry School of Dancing, headed by Russell and Grace Curry, is also celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary in this community. Mr. Curry has long been associated with the Friends of the Drama. His program, which will feature faculty members Harry Raymond, Grace McKenna, and Dorothy Bracken, couple extraordinary dancing ability with Curry's charm and wit, which take a dance program out of the ordinary and make it en-

PROTESTANT CHURCHES TO JOIN IN LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL

For the second successive year, the Protestant Churches of Arlington are joining together in the Arlington Leadership Training School. The school which meets in the First Baptist Church will be held on Monday nights from October 27 through November 24.

Arlington may well be proud of this school with its fine faculty. Practical classes for the teachers of the local church schools cover methods and techniques for children from kindergarten age through high school. Teachers of highest qualifications are on the school staff. Miss

Katherine Stains of Lesley College, Cambridge, will teach a course entitled "Workshop for Teachers of Kindergarten Children." "Practical Teaching Methods in the Primary Department" is the course to be taught by Mrs. Foster Cousins of Newton Centre. Mrs. Alexander Henderson of Medford will conduct a "Workshop for Junior Teachers." "Teaching Junior High Boys and Girls" will be of great aid to those who work with the Junior High Group. Dr. Sara Abbott of Old South Church is the teacher. For those who teach high school (Continued on Page 7)

SERVICE BUREAU THRONGED BY VETERANS SEEKING DOLLAR BUILDING LOTS

Veterans have been crowding the Service Bureau in the old Robbins House ever since announcement was made that the town had two hundred lots to sell at the price of a dollar each.

On Monday, said Charles Armour, director of the bureau, there were so many there that his two assistants, Mrs. Donnelly and Mr. Fitzgerald, were kept continually busy. As the bureau was closed last Saturday, Housing Committee Chairman G. Bertram Washburn generously took all the information to his home on Quincy st., hung a sign on the door and en-

At the meeting of the committee on Monday night, seventeen of the inquirers were certified as purchasers. Meanwhile, forty or fifty have looked over the maps each day.

The lots are only for veterans who were domiciled in Arlington at the time of their enlistment. They will be allotted on the basis of, first come, first served.

Before the veterans can secure lots they must not only be certified by the committee but by the Selectmen, who will doubt-

THE TASK OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

By Rev. David G. Colwell

Minister of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church
(This is a portion of a sermon preached on Christian Education Sunday.)

The Civilization of which we in this country are an integral part is a Christian Civilization. Our laws and our public opinion have a definite orientation toward Christianity. It is difficult for an individual office holder to run counter to much of the ethical teaching of Christianity for any continued period because the underlying philosophy of our law and the judgment of public opinion is, for our civilization, basically Christian. Indeed in the present world conflict, the ideals which we defend, inaccurately stated though they may be, are Christian concepts.

That such should be true of our civilization is due to the fact that we are living on an inherited residuum; it is most certainly not due to the present belief and practice of our people.

Though we live our lives within a society that has a Christian orientation, there is a relatively small number of persons whose personal belief and dynamics is Christian. It is indeed tragic in this connection to notice that many of the leaders of our people who most winsomely and courageously fight to maintain the Christian value of our civilization are men who have no sense of Christianity as a religion.

We have then a civilization which is still nominally Christian, but the number of folk within it that are professing Christians is comparatively small.

In the history of the world it has been shown without peradventure of doubt that ethical ideas divorced from a religion have had length of life only in a very small segment of society. Apart from a valid sense of religion, ideas have not had a binding hold upon the people. It is possible to talk of a Christian ethic or Christian Civilization divorced from Christianity as a religion for only a short period of time; ideas do not communicate themselves because of their own worth and attractiveness. People must be anchored in a knowledge—a personal knowledge—of ultimate reality. Men must have a base of ref-

FREEDOM ON TOUR

Another war fought for freedom by this country has ended victoriously. In the United Nations we are striving not only to retain our own freedoms in a troubled world but to secure those freedoms for countries which have never known them.

It is well, therefore, that this time should have been chosen for the tour of the "Freedom Train" and that next week should be named "Rededication Week" when emphasis will be placed on adherence to those essential freedoms which our forefathers guaranteed.

It is well, particularly, because perhaps, having so long breathed the air of freedom, we take it so much for granted that we forget that once gained it must still be constantly defended; that even in the "Cradle of Liberty" there may be encroachments upon that liberty; that in other parts of the country, which are also our responsibility, there is need of defensive action.

Some of the stories told of the people who have already visited the train emphasize these needs. Here are two incidents that were related in the Christian Science Monitor—

"Remember this, Mom?" a dark-skinned boy whispered to his mother. His mother smiled. "The inscription on the Statue of Liberty," she said. "The mother and son read together, their lips silently forming the words:

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free, the wretched refuse of your teeming shore, send these, the homeless, tempest-tost, to me; I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

The easiest manuscript to read was of a two-minute speech which dedicated a national cemetery at a little town called Gettysburg.

Eighty-four years later, in Philadelphia, a Negro boy, schoolbooks under his arm, stood before the plain, bold handwriting.

"They say it was written on a train, for the people," the boy said softly. "Now it's on another train, going to the people."

This is a time when we may with advantage repeat the motto of our town, "The Defense of Liberty is our ancient heritage."

THE TASK OF THE CHRISTIAN

erence. Values can survive only if they contain something that forces them to reach outside of themselves to find their grounding. They need an independent mooring and an independent reality to climb on.

In Germany recently and in Russia we see a civilization that has thrown off its Christian character. Here a competitive religion has for a time won over. In this country, we have no such competitive religion as yet. However, we are faced with an indifference from which such alien religion might well spring as it did in the above mentioned countries. The conflict here is between belonging to the Christian Church and belonging nowhere. In What Is Christian Civilization, John Baillie says, "Such is the tragedy that has overtaken so much of our common life—that it belongs nowhere, has no spiritual home, no ultimate standards of reference, and little definite conception of the direction in which it desires to move."

We are, then, at a most critical position. Our civilization as we have known it seems doomed because it has cut loose from the power of its genesis.

It is popular to blame the Church for this sad state of affairs. No doubt, the Church has failed in many respects, but I think that the locus of that failure is often misplaced. The Church has failed to make the family conscious of itself as a Christian, a religious, unity. The Church must give the family a basic faith, a basic concern, a practice of worship, a Christian attitude and understanding. The Church cannot redeem men, it cannot reorient their lives unless it can reach deep into the homes of this people.

Here is one of the great tasks of the Christian Church: to bring the family into contact with ultimate reality. The whole family—not the women and children only—the whole family must embrace a vital religious knowledge and faith.

With goods back to more normal conditions, we are in hopes to supply our customers more fully in the future.

Report from Europe

by

Mason R. Smith

An on-the-scene report to the ARLINGTON ADVOCATE, as a member of the National Editorial Association.

"Dio, Salva L'Italia"

Rome, July 28

One of a series of government posters promoting investment in bonds for reconstruction shows a picture of a little girl in her night dress kneeling on her bed beside an open window, praying. The legend beneath the illustration reads "God, save Italy."

From Rome, with all its ancient monuments (of which the Romans are ever-conscious, with deep respect for history), the comfortable living in its excellent hotels and the abject poverty of its working people; to Naples with its parks, museums and pickpockets, its bus tours to Pompeii and Amalfi, and the amazing rehabilitation of its bombed-out hotel and harbor facilities; north again to Milan in Italy's industrial area, with its reconstructed factories, its wealthy industrialists and its poverty-stricken working classes; the picture is fundamentally the same.

Indicative of the confusion resulting from the war, the dissolution of Mussolini's fascist state and the development of a republic are the 30 political parties, none of which have anything like majority support, and all of which—although their aims are similar—are suspicious of the others and hesitant to combine with any fear of betrayal of their own principles.

Government Sincere but Weak

In general, the people of Italy in all walks of life and of all political faiths except Communism, concede that Premier Alcide de Gasperi's government is a group of sincere men, genuinely interested in the rehabilitation and development of Italy and the welfare of her people. But it is a weak government—so weak that in spite of federal controls and rationing the black market flourishes as openly—and without apparent government interference—as any legal business enterprise in America.

Cigarettes—U. S. Navy sea stores and Army P. X., as well as packages bearing the U. S. government revenue stamps—are sold openly on little table stands on the sidewalks everywhere in Italy, at approximately 75c per pack. Theoretically the government controls the manufacture and distribution of tobacco and imposes a revenue tax. Under the open black market, however, the government is reputed to be losing 700,000,000 lire per day in potential revenue from cigarettes.

Black Market

This is only one example. There are, theoretically, food controls which ration bread, meat, flour, etc. But the rations are so small that the average Italian buys on the black market, at highly inflated prices. This is true also of cloth used for making children's and adults' clothing—and most of that is home made, because ready made clothing is far too expensive.

The visiting American lives luxuriously because his dollars are worth anywhere from 500 to 700 lire—purchased again on an open black market. An American is constantly and openly approached on the streets with offers to buy dollars, always "at a good price." The legal rate of exchange, for commercial purposes is 225 lire to the dollar, with a somewhat higher legal rate for tourists. The black market rates are published daily in the newspapers.

Thoughtful and well-informed Italians say that the government cannot "crack down" on black market operations in food because the present system of national food distribution, developed with the fall of Fascism, the German occupation, the Allied occupation and the post-war period, is the black market. If this system folded up, it might mean starvation.

There is also the question of cost—to a government which, already overstaffed with personnel, cannot afford uniformed police and inspectors to check black market operations.

At the same time, a weak attempt is made to control food prices at the source. The controlled price for wheat at the farm is 4500 lire per quintal (200 lbs.). But the cost of production is nearer 8000 lire per quintal—and the farmer can sell all he can hide from the government inspectors, at 30,000 lire per quintal on the black market. And France, Switzerland and Yugoslavia are in the black market, buying wheat for secret export. Thus government crop predictions, however accurately made, usually are high. The farmer always has a "poor crop."

Wages Low

In comparison with cost of living—which means using the black market—wages are extremely low. Italy has been for years a three-class country, with a wealthy upper class, a reasonably well-to-do middle class, and a poor lower class. Now the upper class—represented by the industrialists (some of whom keep two sets of books, one for themselves, another for the government—some, indeed, who contribute privately to the Communist party in the hope that if Communism eventually takes over Italy, their own place will be secure) and the black marketeers—is very rich with stacks of money, as several informed Italians told me; while the middle class is severely pinched between high living costs and low wages—and the working classes are reduced to the utmost poverty. It is a strange picture, this postwar Italy, with all its beauty and high living on the one hand, and working class families with no hope of relief—except that which comes from friends and relatives in America, through such agencies as C.A.R.E., the American Loyola Society, and other U. S. relief organizations.

MODERN LAUNDRY PLANT BEGINS THIRD YEAR OFFERING NEW SERVICES

Three years ago next month, Straight Flat, Straight Shirts and the Arlmont Laundry opened its plant at 785 Massachusetts avenue, corner of Mill street. Although this business was newly located in our town, it was certainly no venture for Bruce M. Graves and W. Gordon MacLeod, owners and operators of the laundry.

With sixteen years' experience as their background, these capable men felt that Arlington was "the place" to locate their business. Their experience enabled them to know what the general public, in a town like ours, wants along this line, and they came to us confident that they could give us the laundry service we need. The Arlmont Laundry now has a confident list of customers from Arlington and surrounding towns. Confident when they leave their bundles and content when they open the completed bundle!

Eight months ago new equipment was installed at this plant for betterment of laundry service to the Arlington people. Included in this up-to-date, fast-serving equipment is the Unipress unit for shirts. Your humble reporter was quite enthused over the actual accomplishments of this unit, as you also would be could you see it in operation. You are invited by Mr. MacLeod and Mr. Graves to visit The Arlmont Laundry and inspect their system of laundering service.

The well-trained staff of ten workers is efficient and ready to help you with your washing, ironing and shirt repairing problems. They now offer five services, which include bundles of Family Finished, Flat and Shirts,

Students please note:—The Arlmont Laundry now offers the new "Bachelor Service" which is a complete finished bundle for college students or bachelors who may have all their clothes washed and ironed under this plan!

In case of sickness or emergency reasons, there is provided a special fast service with pickup and delivery included. Why, then, should people hesitate when laundry problems arise? Women returning from vacations or those in the process of fall house cleaning, will be grateful for the information and help they will receive from this clean, modern laundry plant. Call Arlington 4110 or visit The Arlmont Laundry where you will receive courteous service that satisfies.

Mr. MacLeod is known as a long-time Arlington resident and Mr. Graves is a Waltham resident in hopes of finding living quarters in our town.

Open from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily except Saturday when the hours are 7 a. m. to 3 p. m. The Arlmont Laundry is the laundry for Arlington people. Find out for yourself by leaving your bundle of wash at 785 Massachusetts avenue and you will agree that "Here indeed is work guaranteed!"

Clark Gable Stars In "The Hucksters"

Making his return to acting after an absence of more than a year and a half, Clark Gable heads the all-star cast in one of the year's most talked-about motion picture, "The Hucksters"; which starts Sunday at the University Theatre.

The film version of Frederic Wakeman's novel about the radio advertising business also marks the American film debut of Deborah Kerr, one of England's leading cinema stars, with other top roles played by Sydney Greenstreet, Adolphe Menjou, Ava Gardner, Keenan Wynn, and Edward Arnold. In the highly explosive story, which headed best-seller lists for nearly a year, Gable portrays the role of Vic Norman, fast-talking advertising salesman de luxe.

The March of "Time" - "Is Everybody Listening", "San Francisco - Pacific Gateway" a This Is America and other short subjects complete the program.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program including Bob Hope and Joan Caulfield in "Monsieur Beaucaire", and "And Then There Were None", featuring Barry Fitzgerald and Louis Hayward and Walter Huston.

Response Gratifying Says NEPH Chairman

"Response to National Employment Week has been gratifying," Mr. Arthur R. McLellan, chairman of the local NEPH committee, reported today.

"A number of employers in Arlington and vicinity have indicated that they will cooperate with the various agencies by employing, whenever possible, disabled veterans and others who are physically handicapped, but who still possess skills which are useful in many occupations. However, if this annual observance of NEPH week is to be the outstanding success that it was last year, it will be necessary for a large number of other employers to list with the committee or one of the cooperating agencies all available job openings which can be made available to the physically handicapped persons who are otherwise qualified through skill, ability and experience.

"The observance of this week each year has been set aside by Act of Congress highlights in a realistic manner that it's the abilities rather than the disabilities of handicapped workers that count," Mr. McLellan pointed out. "Throughout the nation today there are countless thousands of physically handicapped persons who are doing an outstanding job in all types of industries and in all types of occupations." "Employers willing to cooperate with the Cambridge area NEPH Committee are urged to contact the nearest Employment Office of the Division of Employment Security. In Cambridge this office is at 1416 Massachusetts avenue, and the telephone is KIR. 7757.

Turkey Dinner and Style Show a Success

About two hundred persons were in attendance at the turkey dinner served recently at the Calvary Methodist Church. The affair was in charge of members of the Paquinose Club under the able chairmanship of Mrs. William Hamilton, assisted by Mrs. Everett Van Iderstine.

All joined in group singing, led by Charlie Kirschbaum, while the tables were being removed, after which a style show was put on by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bliss of Jayne's Dress Shop.

Some unusually attractive fashions were displayed by very charming models, consisting of professionals from Boston and 3 local ladies: Doris Bowker, Marion Donnelly, and Winifred Meyer.

Door prizes were awarded to the holders of lucky numbers, including among other things, several pairs of Nylon hose. Four lucky girls, Barbara Miller, Elaine Mailhot, Eleanor Scott and Doris Mitchell received dress skirts as special prizes.

Vets to Graduate From Radio Tech

Two Arlington veterans, Fred R. Donald and Thomas F. Wall, will be graduated from the Radio Technical School in Cambridge the 24th after completing the radio technician's course.

Donald, son of Joseph Y. Donald, 266 Broadway, attended Way-side Inn Boys' School and Arlington High, where he was on the track team. He spent 26 months with the Marine Corps in the South Pacific before enrolling in the Radio Technical Training School.

Wall, son of Mrs. Jeanette E. Wall, 17 Grove street, also attended Arlington High School, where he was active in football. He served with the Coast Guard for four years in the North Atlantic and Caribbean area.

Among the 1,342 students enrolled at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, for the fall semester, are Charlotte Alber, 29 Fairmont street, freshman, and the Phyllis Wyman, 62 Richfield road, sophomore.

THINKS COUNTY GOVERNMENT CAREFUL AND ECONOMICAL

Although the Middlesex County tax for 1946 was increased $332,139.84 over 1945, County Treasurer Charles P. Howard believes that the County government is careful and economical.

The County tax for 1946 was $2,188,754.31 as compared with the tax of $1,856,614.47 for 1945. There was thus an increase of $332,139.84. The major part of this increase was due to expenditure for necessary work which was omitted during the war years. A further comparison is interesting. In 1941, the last year before the war, the tax was $2,049,491.61 and in 1942, the first war year, it was $1,688,630.61. There was thus a decrease of $360,861, which compares with the increase of $332,139.84 from 1945 to 1946. Consequently, the increase which immediately followed the war was less than the decrease at the beginning of the war, despite large increases in 1946 in the cost of materials and food due to rise in prices, increases in the rates for salaries and wages, and increased costs due to normal growth in the volume of county business.

The tax of $2,188,754.31 for 1946 compares with the peak, in 1931, of $2,351,884.70. Middlesex County thus had a lower tax in 1946 than it had 15 years ago.

Mrs. Woodworth's Paintings Exhibited By Woman's Club

An art exhibit by Mrs. Ruth Woodworth is being shown in the Robbins Library Gallery during the remainder of October. This is the second in a series of exhibits of work by Arlington artists being sponsored by the Arlington Woman's Club, under the supervision of the Art Committee.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Woodworth's paintings last year will undoubtedly look forward to her exhibit this season. Her paintings include both oil and watercolor, and cover a wide scope of subjects. Perhaps one of the most unusual is a portrait of the artist's mother as a young girl.

Mrs. Woodworth has been painting a number of years. Art portraiture is a new field for her. She is a graduate of Massachusetts School of Art, and today is conducting a series of private lessons in both oil and watercolor.

RED AND GRAY HAVE CHANCE TO REACH WIN COLUMN SAT.

Locals Face Waltham in First Home Game of Season. Comparative Scores Gives Toz's Boys a Chance to Bounce Waltham, Somerville, Chelsea and Even Melrose.

On Saturday the town should turn out en masse and give the Red and Gray eleven a morale-building cheer when it faces Waltham at Warren A. Peirce Field. For that is what the boys need. They have journeyed far and near in their first four games, all to hostile camps and have been beaten and mauled by superior finesse, passing and experience: Medford, 0-6; Newton, 6-13; Everett, 0-13; Lynn Classical, 6-25.

In none of the games have they been outplayed in sheer grit. The Medford clash could have been 0-0 and Medford now stands undefeated. In the second period of the Lynn Classical game last Saturday, Toz's lads ground out a 70-yard touchdown march that was thrilling. Classical, with its famous Agganis, is one of the top schoolboy aggregations.

In facing Waltham, the A. H. S. faces no easy task. In its first game the Watchmakers tied with Malden Catholic, 6-6. Leominster trounced them, 25 to 6 a week later (which makes things look good for this Saturday but bad for next). Waltham's third game of the season with Malden was called off because of fog.

Last week Waltham pushed Rindge all over the gridiron but could win by only one score and Rindge is not much this year, having been beaten by Weymouth and edging small Norwood, 5-0. For the visitors, Al Scaffidi is a 115-lb. scat back that must be watched. McGovern at left half is a dangerous passer and Big-ham is a powerful runner from his fullback position.

May Win Four

Comparative scores are treacherous things. However, trusting them for the nonce, the way scores now shape up, if the Red and Gray defeat Waltham, Somerville ought to be an easier mark. Chelsea also can be taken with the help of a few breaks. Too, this year the bloom has faded on the flower from Melrose, and it may be a happy Thanksgiving Day, after all.

This writer has a suspicion that Toz's boys are going to come up off the mat and smack 'em down Saturday, and recommends that the local fans turn out to see the possible happen.

Crawford Coombes, Jr., of 101 Seltuate street, has been chosen Chairman of Publicity for the American Junior Red Cross in the Greater Boston area.

AGGANIS AERIALS GIVE LYNN WIN OVER ARLINGTON, 25-6

Lynn's Ace Player Tosses for All Four Touchdowns. Sets New Passing Record. Raia and Carmody Set Stage for Lone Score.

Saturday night in Manning Bowl, Lynn, close to 10,000 rabid football fans saw Lynn's great quarterback, Harry "the Arm" Agganis, show why he is considered the most dangerous football player in the state, as he personally set down the Red and Gray, 25 to 6. Agganis gave an amazing demonstration of passing as he completed 15 out of 20 passes. This gave him in three games an overall total of 45 tosses completed in 60 attempts. Statisticians claim this is a new schoolboy record.

Agganis and his teammate, George Bullard, started the scoring when after two plays Bullard ran 54 yards after taking a short heave from Agganis. Agganis also converted. Arlington took the kickoff but met with little success. Raia kicked poorly to his own 20 which set the stage for Agganis' pass to Strom who went for 10 yards and a touchdown.

After receiving the next kick-off, Arlington's Dick Raia and Bob Carmody sparked the Red and Gray to a 70-yard march which led to a touchdown with Raia bucking over from the one. In the third period Lynn marched 38 yards with Bullard snaring Wright, O'Brien, ends, Dean, an Agganis pass to score. In the back, Salisbury.

Last period Coston grabbed an Agganis leave and went to the 10 where Pijo captured another toss from "the Arm" for the final score. The summary:

LYNN CLASSICAL: Le, Pijo; It, Smith; Jk, Kalapinski; c, Chipouras; rz, Moran; rt, Valliere; re, Strom; qb, Agganis; jhb, Bullard; rhh, Cheever; fb, Brown.

ARLINGTON—Re, Lally; rt, Barbagallo; rg, McEwen; c, Carroll; ig, Rindoni; lt, Freni; le, Myers; qb, Carmody; rhh, Tyrell; jhb, Canniff; fb, Raia.

RED DEVILS START WINNING WAYS BEAT ST. LEONARDS, 20-0

Muello, Graham, Preston Star in First Victory. Arlington Forward Wall Plays Their Best Brand of Ball of Current Season.

DEVILS' FOOD

There were only about 2000 persons in the stands when the game started, the smallest crowd this season on a good day. Muello's run for the first touchdown was a great bit of footwork.

Brick Preston showed what straight arming means when going on an end run he straight-armed three tacklers before he was run out of bounds.

Skeets Vincent was injured in the first period and suffered a painful shoulder separation. Dr. Morton Swartz, team physician, treated him and sent him to the Mt. Auburn Hospital.

The Arlington Red Devils started the ball rolling, this time in the win column, as they trounced St. Leonards of Boston by the score of 20 to 0 Sunday afternoon at the Warren A. Peirce Field. The Devils started out in the scoring column when Fran White recovered a fumble on the St. Leonard's 30-yd. line. On the first play Bill Muello swept around his left end and went all the way. Preston then converted when the ball struck the crossbar and bounced through. Muello also made another good run when he galloped 30 yards near the end of the first stanza.

In the second period Paul Sullivan recovered a blocked kick on the visitors' 22-yd. line. Wells went for 11. On the next play Muello ran the ball to the 5 where he lateraled it to Preston, who roared over. Preston made his second conversion. The Devils benefitted plenty as Paul Wells made some good ground gains.

The third period produced the Devils' last score when Tiger Graham went over on a quarter-back sneak from the 3-yd. line. The conversion failed.

The Red Devils' forward wall played highly inspired ball as every one of the boys were on their toes and charged in on the opposing line to drop the St. Leonard backs for some long losses. St. Leonard's was plagued by the constant whistle of the officials who inflicted penalty after penalty. The closest the visitors got to pay dirt was to the Arlington 10 and then they were penalized 15 yards for roughing, 15 for clipping, and 5 for off-side. The summary:

RED DEVILS—Ends, Brilante, Kenealy, Sullivan; tackles, Keating, Collins, Azarian, White, Folson; Guards, Bonin, Collins, Cusolito, Day, Bergstrom; Centers, Farrington, Coyne, Colbert; Backs, Wells, Preston, Shea, Hession, Vincent, Graham, McElaney, Nickols, Muello, Agostino.

ST. LEONARDS—Ends, Sapochetti, Maggiamco, Rinaldi, Conforti; Tackles, Forti, Fatale, Contrado; Guards, DiTrigo, Marascherello; Centers, Catalano, Tarallo; Backs, Quaratiello, Pietrofiori, Sapochetti, Uno, Lo Russo, Potitto, Rizzo, Toscano.

George Bernard Shaw sends the following message to the Children's World Theatre opening in New York November 1st: "When I was a child I could not endure stuff written down to children. I devoured Pilgrims' Progress, Gulliver, Robinson Crusoe, Arabian Nights, Grimm's Tales, Hans Andersen, and the Bible narratives, all written for adults. My play for children is Androcles and the Lion. It is also a play for adults. Barrie's Peter Pan, written throughout down to supposed child capacity, is in that respect a failure. For children there must always be passages of adult depth or deeper. A theatre for children should never forget this.—G. Bernard Shaw."

There is also a group near the Thorndike Street Playground. All of the lots are on or near water and sewer lines.

Mr. Washburn suggests that any veteran writing for a lot—the requests must be put in writing—give two or three choices, so that if his first choice has already been sold, he can be allotted another.

SUSAN REED HERE OCTOBER 24th

Susan Reed, whose first local concert will be given Friday evening, Oct. 24, at the Town Hall in Arlington under the auspices of the Radcliffe Alumnae of Arlington, has been singing her ballads and folk songs for two years in New York.

Only 18 years old when she began her performances, she has rapidly made a name for herself as a singer of considerable charm and interest, with a repertoire of 90 folk songs out of the 300 she knows by heart.

She accompanies herself on the zither, the Irish harp, and the "ever-lovin' ". Her ballad-singing, which she began at home singing with her family, led to her most ardent hobby, the reclaiming of old instruments. Among those she has salvaged are an old lute and the zither she uses in all her performances.

Red-haired and green-eyed, she is as unassuming as her songs, which she sings in a high, clear voice. She has just made her first album of recordings for RCA Victor, a selection typical of her longer concert-stage programs. Her favorites are "Barbara Allen" and "I Know Where I'm Going".

Tickets to the Arlington performance, which is to benefit the Radcliffe College Seventieth Anniversary Fund, may be obtained by writing to Miss Charlotte Hickey, 58 Old Mystic street, Arlington, or at Farrington's, The Treasure Chest, or the Arlington Appliance Center.

Vox Pop to Broadcast From Martha's Vineyard Striped Bass Derby

Martha's Vineyard has been described as a "body of land surrounded by striped bass." This makes the picturesque colony the ideal spot for the nation's top Striped Bass Derby, and when Parks Johnson and Warren Hull originate their October 11th broadcast from there, they will tell the nation about the Derby.

The "Vox Pop" twosome will visit the Vineyard on the final day of the second annual Derby, and on their 8:30 to 9:00 p. m. broadcast, heard over station WCOP, they will interview some of the winners.

The Derby will take place in the waters of Martha's Vineyard Island, including creeks and coves, bays and inlets of Edgartown, Oak Bluffs, East and West Chop, Menemsha and Gay Head. The contest is open to anyone registered 24 hours before the time the fish is caught. More than 2,000 contestants representing 24 states, Havana and Canada are entered.

Heights Sunshine Club

The following history of the Heights Sunshine Club was contributed by a member:

The Arlington Heights Sunshine Club is just entering its fifty-first year.

Early in the spring of 1896, Mrs. Thomas A. Jernegan invited a few of her friends and neighbors to meet at her home to form plans for a weekly meeting of social enjoyment. To her came the idea of doing something for others nearby when sorrow or illness should come, and so each one brought the small sum of ten cents to create a fund for this purpose.

Thus, the club grew, until officers were needed, and a name. To one of our number, Mrs. John T. White, came the inspiration. At a meeting at her home on a dull and showery day, the sun suddenly burst through the clouds as on April days it is wont to do, flooding the room with sunshine. She at once said, "Why not call it the Sunshine Club?" This name was readily accepted. Mrs. Jernegan was elected president, holding the position most acceptably for many years.

It is interesting to note that this club was formed and named one year before the International Sunshine Club, and entirely independent of it. The only difference was that the International Club had no dues; the object and methods of the Club, however, were the same.

For years we contributed to the Blind Babies' Home in New York and New Jersey, which was under the direct supervision of the International Sunshine Club, but is now endowed. The Fresh Air Fund, the Free Bed Fund for the Symmes Arlington Hospital, the District Nursing Association, and the Welfare Council have also received from us a yearly donation.

The greater part of our work is social. Flowers have been sent to the sick, also to express our sympathy in homes where death has come, and letters of consolation have been sent by our corresponding secretary.

It may be of interest to know what way we raised our money in the past. On the grounds of Mr. Jernegan we gave a lawn party, which was quite a pretentious affair. There were booths ranging from aprons and carry work to a vegetable booth, besides various attractions for young and old, and believe even dancing was one of the features; the grounds were lighted and adorned with many Japanese lanterns and other decorations. It was a very successful party, and evening, both socially and financially. The proceeds from the party were given toward care for a little family, deprived of the death of the husband and mother.

Later, an Evening with the Authors was given in Park Avenue church, which Society very generously offered us the use of the church, and our talented neighbors, Mrs. Cyrus Dallin, Miss Sophie Swett, and Nixon Waterman, volunteered their services. Each of them reading selections from their own writings. Aside from the pleasure derived from the entertainment, a goodly sum was added to our treasury.

The Moonshine Parties must not be overlooked, when the gentlemen were entertained, different members opening their homes for these evening parties; a good sum was realized in that way to help us carry on our Sunshine work.

When it was assured that Arlington was to have a hospital, our club became interested in furnishing a room, and we turned our efforts in that direction, by starting a fund for that purpose. We gave a vaudeville entertainment in Crescent Hall, the proceeds from this amounting to $102.58. With this money we started our hospital fund, adding to it from then on until at the time it was needed we had nearly $400, which sum we used to completely furnish the kindness of one of our members, Mrs. D. A. Perley, a brass plate marked "Furnished by the Arlington Heights Sunshine Club" was placed on the door of the room.

Since the founding of the Associated Charities, now known as the Social Service League, the Club has, besides its assistance to them, devoted its work more to sending cheer and comfort to those who are ill and especially to shut-ins, and giving of Christmas cheer, and adding happiness to the lives of our neighbors, when in sorrow or trouble, thus exercising the real Sunshine spirit and carrying out the aims and intentions for which this Club was formed. We hope it may be the desire of this Club to continue this thought to the end.

Flower Arrangements Demonstrated to D. A. R.

The art of flower arrangement was deftly demonstrated by one of his assistants during the address given by Mr. George W. Scott at the evening meeting of the Menotomy Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, held September 30 at the home of Miss Ednah Warren. Mr. Scott told many interesting facts relating to "A Day in a Flower Shop", and also gave suggestions of benefit to those with ailing plants. At the close of his address, the flowers used in the arrangements were distributed by lottery among the members and guests present.

A silent tribute was given to the memory of one of the Charter Members of Menotomy Chapter, Mrs. Marion Belcher Thompson—whose death occurred during the past summer. Ms. Belcher had been a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution since 1904.

A birthday cake, made by the regent, Mrs. John Sampson, was presented to Mrs. Frank Boyd, in honor of the eightieth birthday which occurred last Thursday.

Plans were made for attending the State Meeting to be held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, on October 22nd and 23rd, 1947.

Hear of Japan from Imprisoned Missionary

The Anna Bradshaw Guild of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church held its first meeting of the season Monday afternoon in the church vestry, with the president, Mrs. John K. Berry, Jr., presiding. Miss Grace Parker led in the devotional exercises with Mrs. Laurence L. Barber at the piano. Miss Alice Whittier, secretary, read her report, as did the treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Owens. Mrs. Harold B. Wood, delegate to the Northfield Missionary Conference, reported this event briefly.

Mrs. George B. C. Rugg, vice president and program chairman, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Harold Lane. Mrs. Lane was born in Kyoto, Japan; came to this country for her education, culminating in graduation at Middlebury College. She returned to Japan as a missionary, was imprisoned during the World War II. Her story of the Japanese people was an interesting one, covering four W's—want, weariness, waiting and willingness.

While in Arlington she was a guest of Mrs. Ralph Lancaster, Winchester road, her college classmate.

Tea was served by the Harmony Group with the president and Mrs. Frank Savage pouring at an attractively set up table.

Samuel Femia, town dog officer, urges any residents who have not yet licensed dogs to do so at once. Though he has sent out several notices, he has been forced to take some citizens into court. This he says, is most unpleasant. Women have to leave their children and it makes him "feel mean", when he is only doing his duty. "Dogs," he says, "must be licensed."

Cents Savings Bank for an addition. He then combined the Pleasant Street Market and the J. O. Holt Grocery, making many improvements. Through the years, and they are nearly sixty, he has kept his old customers. He sells meat and groceries, if not to his earliest customers, to their children and grandchildren. Many of the names first on his books are still there.

He has weathered the great depression and several smaller ones as well as two World Wars with their scarcity and rationing problems. Now he is concerned about high prices, not only on his own account but of account of his customers. They are buying less meat, he says, and cheaper cuts. Of teachers he remarks that, considering the high rent they have to pay, he does not see how they eat at all.

Mr. Holt has been concerned not only with his own business but with the well being of the whole town. He gave of his time and his business ability to the Arlington Cooperative Bank of which he was a charter member. He was a director for forty-one years and in 1935 was elected president, having previously been vice-president. He was also a director of the Menotomy Trust Company and a member of the Corporation of the Five Cents Savings Bank. For many years he was a trustee of the First Universalist church where his business ability proved of the greatest value.

He was an organizer of the Old Board of Trade and served as its president. When the Chamber of Commerce took the place of the Board of Trade he was active in its affairs and constant in attendance at meetings.

joyable to both men and women in the audience. Tap-pupils William Farr and Marguerite Derro will also be presented.

On view for the first time will be the new deep-cushioned theater seats which have been installed at the clubhouse during the summer months. The auditorium floor has been ramped, to provide an unobstructed view of the stage from all points. New high-powered lighting equipment has been added, and will be seen for the first time in the season's opening play, "Lady Windermere's Fan", to be given on the evenings of October 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Wilde Play Opening Attraction "Lady Windermere's Fan", the gay comedy of manners by Oscar Wilde, was selected by the Friends for the opening attraction of their twenty-fifth season because of its spectacular production, gay comedy, and historical significance to the organization. It was originally presented by the Friends of the Drama at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall in April, 1925, and was the first production of a famous play presented in the early days of the Friends.

Heading a cast of twenty-three Friends players will be Miriam Hendrick Cahalin, Arlington's first lady of the theater, whose performances for the Friends have been such a delight for many seasons. Edythe Avery and Kathleen Cosgrove, together with newcomers Richard Crosby, Thomas Brooks, and Arthur Heaney, will fill the major roles. Other players include Thomas Percy, Albert Tate, Eileen O'Leary, Marjorie Hayme, Eleanor Mansfield, Edgar and Ruth Emery, Haywood and Marion Houghton, Nelson Berry, Edwin Springer, Gilbert Hewins, Milton Paige, Jane Cody, Eleanor Colours, Ida Hall, Gertrude Hestelme, and Roland Wentworth. student of Oscar Wilde, is directing the Friends' production, and her sympathetic understanding and meticulous care in direction that was so evident in the Friends' recent production of "Pygmalion" will be equally apparent in "Lady Windermere's Fan." The play will be given for four nights, and reserved seats will be available to members and their guests.

First Baptist Men Hear School Superintendent

The Men's Class of the First Baptist Church at the noon session last Sunday heard an inspiring message by Dr. Forbes H. Norris, superintendent of schools in Winchester. In his address, which he entitled "Security of Serenity", Dr. Norris emphasized the danger in present day tendencies of individuals as well as nations to make material wealth the sole objective while seeking so-called security and of neglecting spiritual and moral values in pursuit of lasting happiness and peace.

The Class was conducted by First Vice President Walter Alsen and the singing was led by John Mellen.

George Miller, who is in charge of bowling for the Men's Class, reported that a good start was made last Thursday evening when 13 members participated and Frank Caldwell rolled up the highest single score of 117 as well as the highest average score. The Men's Class bowling activity will be continued every Thursday evening and an invitation to share the congenial fellowship of this event was extended to all members of the class.

Tuesday evening the Executive Board met at the home of Wallace Gorton, 71 Quincy street.

PARMENTER P. T. A.

The Board of Directors of the Parmenter School Parent-Teacher Association met at the home of the president, Mrs. Donald Pette, Monday evening.

The board voted to continue their contributions for this school year toward the milk for the children's school lunches. It also voted two additional gifts for the school: first, a new portable electric phonograph, and second, a set of supplementary master books containing additional educational data for all classes.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held October 24, at the American Legion Hall. A Square Dance is planned for November 7th at the school gymnasium to raise money for the association.

The speaker for the first regular meeting on October 20 was announced as Dr. Victor Weisskopf, Massachusetts Institute of Technology staff member. Dr. Weisskopf took a very active part in the recent atomic researches. Motion pictures of the actual atomic explosions will be shown. Dr. Weisskopf's subject will be "The Tale of Two Cities". All Arlington parents should see and hear this forecast into the future.

Plan Concentrated Red Feather Drive

At a meeting called by Residential Chairman T. Richard Quinn, plans were made for a concentrated drive from October 26th to November 2nd to raise Arlington's share of the Greater Boston Community Fund.

In preparation for this, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, all of whom share in the fund, will distribute brochures describing the activities of the Red Feather agencies and illustrated with pictures. Workers' kits have been given to the twenty-three district chairmen for distribution to the captains and their workers.
